About NC HIDTA and NCRIC

In 1997, the San Francisco Bay Area was designated as a High Intensity Drug Trafficking Area by the Office of National Drug Control Policy. In 2007, The Northern California High Intensity Drug Trafficking Area's (NC HIDTA) Executive Board established the Northern California Regional Intelligence Center (NCRIC). The NCRIC was organized under the NC HIDTA Director through the combined intelligence resources of the NC HIDTA and the newer Homeland Security Programs. The NC HIDTA/NCRIC is a multi-jurisdictional federal, state, and local public safety Intelligence Fusion Center. The NC HIDTA/NCRIC serves as the Regional Intelligence Fusion Center for the Northern District of California, which includes fifteen counties.

The NC HIDTA/NCRIC is responsible for the coordination, collection, analysis and dissemination of major criminal, counter-narcotic, and threat information between the Fusion Center and agencies that represent the regions law enforcement, fire, public health, emergency services, homeland security, and critical infrastructure. The NC HIDTA/NCRIC provides public safety, counter-narcotic, intelligence and critical infrastructure protection training to the region. The NC HIDTA/NCRIC is also responsible for providing case and investigative equipment support for the investigation of major crimes, particularly narcotic trafficking criminal activity, and conducting and producing vulnerability and threat assessments.
